Elements of wind and water when it returns, Melari tells him about the elementary sanctuary found at Hyrule Castle. The link enters the palace and defeats at Par Gyorg, winning the wind element. Spoiler warning: Spoilers end here. The two then left for the element of the wind. Link asks for permission from the grandfather of him, Real Blacksmith, Smith. However, it is revealed that the winner, Vaati, has malicious intention, and breaks the Sheet Picori, opening the breast attached and flooding Hyrule with monsters. King Daltus explains that the itching could be able to fix the sheet, but he reveals even more than only visible to children. He transforms Hyrule Castle into a twisted counterpart that the link must go through to achieve it. The final form of him, the anger of Vaati, seems invincible; However, the victory defeats him a last time and destroys it forever. Later it is revealed that both Ezlo and Vaati were once more Miquid, Ezlo was a recognized wise and artisan and Vaati. The link corrects a large shipyard here and reaches the tower of the wind tribe. He merges the element of water on the white sword and then travels to the Valley Valley. When talking with Melari, it is revealed that the second element is in the cave of the flames, a human mine near Melari mines. Link, as well as several other characters in the game, the characters are strongly similar in the Wind Waker, although the visuals of some characters take their cue from the Nintendo Titles 64 The Legend of Zelda: Ocarina of Time and the Legend of Zelda: Majora's Mask. Link and Ezlo parted for the sanctuary, where they merge the land and the elements of fire on the white sword. Ezlo shrinks both and enter the Meri mines. It is an old belief in Hyrule that the itchiori shows only children. Link complies with many rhices of the city in the city of Hyrule and has towed the shoemaker creates boots for him. Some enthusiasts believe that the idea of the picori (menish) came from a character in the de Zelda: A link to the past. Smith offers Link to the King, to go and fetch them and is given Smith's Sword and a Map. The King tells Link to search for the Picori in the Minish woods. Ezlo explains the situation to him; Ezlo reveals that he is also looking to reverse a curse made by Vaati, and jumps over Link's head to accompany him on his quest. In the overworld and dungeons, the game replaces the traditional element interface with images that associate elements or actions with buttons on the Game Boy handheld device, similar to the element interface in 3D titles such as The Legend of Zelda: Ocarina of Time and The Legend of Zelda: The Wind Awakens. Link now searches for the Water Element. Some players believe this is similar to how Link shrinks using tree trunks in The Minish Cap. He then rushes to the Elemental Sanctuary, merging the final element into the White Sword, creating the Four Sword and then reading an ancient story on stained glass windows, hidden in the rear chamber of the Elemental Sanctuary. Link then fights Vaati Reborn and Vaati Transfigured, apparently defeating him definitively. Link speaks to the Elder, Gentari. Upon returning to the human world, Link is visited by King Gustavo in the form of a ghost, marking the place of the Royal Valley on Link's map. Link frees Zelda from his curse³ while the castle collapses, and then © and the princess go to the courtyard to avoid being crushed. Link climbs the large mount and at the top finds a Portal Picori. By contrast, Nintendo America retained its launch so as not to cannibalize the DS market. The Minish Cap is Zelda's third game to be cast over the Four Swords legend, with The Legend of Zelda being: Four Swords and The Legend of Zelda: Four Swords Adventures. The game is a prequel to the rest of the Four Swords games and reveals background information ³ the collective history of the games. The main reason ³ cited was the Nintendo DS; With the launch of the European DS scheduled for spring 2005, Nintendo Europe is pushing hard to make The Minish Cap its ³ hand-held application to kill Christmas. Ezlo then explains that while humans refer to them as Picori, beings refer to themselves as Minish. Zelda returns Hyrule Castle and all the cursed people to normal. Every 100 years the door opens between the world of humans and the Picori. After participating in a draw in which Princess Zelda wins a Small Shield that she hands over to Link, the two head to the castle; however, its path is blocked by a Deku Scrub. Home Characters and landscapes of The Minish Cap A long time ago, when Hyrule was about to be consumed by darkness, the little Picori descended from the sky and granted a young man dressed in green the legendary Picori Leaf and a bright golden light. Smith asks Link to bring a sword he believes to the king of Hyrule to give to the winner of the tournament.
